MANOR, Texas, Nov. 18, 2021 /PRNewswire/ -- Richmond American Homes of Texas, Inc., a subsidiary of M.D.C. Holdings, Inc. (NYSE: MDC), is pleased to announce its entry into the Austin housing market (RichmondAmerican.com/Austin). The company's expansion in this area will bring local house hunters access to a wider range of home personalization options than other builders typically provide.

"We're excited to grow in the Austin area, and to offer homebuyers something different than what's been available before. Instead of choosing from two or three packages of home options, they'll have the freedom to pick and choose the features that will make a home uniquely their own," said David Viger, Richmond American Homes' Chief Operating Officer.

Richmond American's first community, Carillon, will be built in Manor, just 20 miles from downtown Austin. This neighborhood will offer five exciting ranch and two-story floor plans from the builder's popular Seasons™ Collection, boasting up to five bedrooms and 1,590 to 3,030 sq. ft. of living space. Residents will enjoy easy access to the rest of Travis County via US Route 290 and the 130 Corridor.
